Benefits for You

Many men imagine themselves aging healthily. Maintaining muscle mass, fitness, vitality and a healthy sex life, often form the core of this image of the healthy aging male. However, for many men, this may not be the case. They suffer with poor energy levels, sedentary lifestyles and loss of libido. Underlying many of these changes can be the age-related decline of testosterone, the key masculine hormone.

Tongkat Ali is a high-quality, clinically trialed extract of the root of Eurycoma longifolia, an herb used for centuries in Southeast Asia to support vitality and sexual interest.*

What is Tongkat Ali?

MediHerb® Tongkat Ali contains a root extract of the revered Southeast Asian herb, Eurycoma longifolia, also called 'Malaysian ginseng' or 'Long Jack.'

This specific Tongkat Ali extract has been studied extensively in clinical trials.

Long used throughout Southeast Asian countries as a traditional tonic to promote healthy sexual interest and vitality, Tongkat Ali uses are also now supported by scientific evidence. Many of the benefits of Tongkat Ali are thought to be due to its positive effects on testosterone synthesis and free testosterone levels.*

Who Benefits from Tongkat Ali?

Tongkat Ali is designed for men wanting to maintain normal levels of sexual interest. It may benefit men experiencing a normal age-related decline in testosterone levels and those looking to support normal healthy blood levels of free testosterone. Older men wanting to maintain their normal vitality levels and general well-being may consider Tongkat Ali.*

Tongkat Ali contains a clinically trialed and standardized root extract of the Southeast Asian herb Tongkat Ali, also known as 'Long Jack' or 'Malaysian ginseng.' Tongkat Ali can be used in older men to help:

- ✓ Support healthy sexual interest
- ✓ Support normal testosterone synthesis
- ✓ Support normal healthy testosterone levels
- ✓ Maintain normal free testosterone levels
- ✓ Support general well-being and vitality*
